Favorite LUA Pillar

weCONNECT

When we take time to build relationships and get to know one another, we build a safe and welcoming community where all learners can succeed!

Why I Became an Educator

I struggled in school. What I now know is that sometimes kids who struggle in school grow up to become great educators because they are determined to make school better! When I was in middle school I used to imagine a better school system - one that valued all learners. This is why at LUA we build relationships first, so we can understand our students STRENGTHS and struggles. When we start with our strengths, we build the capacity of our students and community because we see the good in ourselves and each other. ♥

A Fun Fact About Me:

I was a Kindergarten teacher at Level Up Academy in 2015.
